

UNIVERSIDADE DO PARANÁ

WELCOME TO UFPR

a Comprehensive and Socially Responsible University

ABOUT US

The 'Universidade Federal do Paraná' (UFPR) is the oldest university in Brazil, founded in 1912, in Curitiba, as 'Universidade do Paraná'. The historic building was chosen by the population as a symbol of the capital of Paraná State.

With more than 40,000 students enrolled in over 143 undergraduate and 90 graduate degrees, UFPR is one of Brazil's largest and most prestigious universities. Our commitment to social responsibility is reflected in our racial and social inclusion policies, in addition to our efforts to promote social and educational equity.

Best of all: as a public university in Brazil, all academic activities are tuition free!

UFPR offers bachelor, doctoral, and master's degree programs in all areas of knowledge. We also provide professional training and programs in medicine, multi health professions, and veterinary medicine residency programs.

Nine of our campuses are in Curitiba, the capital of Paraná State in southern Brazil, where you will find a vibrant cultural environment and a temperate climate. Other 5 campuses are scattered throughout the state of Paraná, including the coastal area. UFPR also has 4 experimental farms and 4 Hospital units.

DISCOVER YOUR POTENTIAL AT UFPR

As an international student, you can study at UFPR as a degree-seeking or as an exchange student.

In both cases you have free access to primary medical care, libraries, sports facilities, university restaurants and transportation on campus. To integrate our international students, we offer them free courses in Portuguese as a foreign language, in addition to other engaging and meaningful cultural and social activities. International students pay no tuition or fees.

Join us at UFPR, where you will have the opportunity to develop your academic and professional skills, engage in cutting-edge research, and make a positive impact on society. Apply now and become part of a community that values excellence, diversity and social responsibility.

EDUCATION THAT GOES BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

At UFPR, we believe that education is more than just acquiring knowledge or skills. It's about nurturing a spirit of inquiry, creativity and social responsibility that prepares you for a meaningful and fulfilling life. That's why our undergraduate programs are designed to integrate teaching, research, and outreach activities in a holistic and synergistic way.

Our curriculum is designed to promote the training of global citizens with critical thinking abilities. By combining teaching, research, and outreach activities we provide our students with a transformative educational experience that prepares them to make a positive impact on society.

In our undergraduate programs you learn from faculty members who are experts in their respective fields. They are not only dedicated teachers, but also active researchers at the forefront of their disciplines. At UFPR we offer the most up-to-date and relevant knowledge, applying it to real-world situations. Furthermore, research mentorship at UFPR will help you develop critical thinking, problem-solving, and analytical skills highly valued in today's job market.

Finally, our outreach and service learning programs enable you to apply your knowledge and skills to real-world problems. Whether you are working on a community development project, providing health services, or advocating for environmental sustainability, you will have the opportunity to contribute to the well-being of others while gaining valuable experience.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS:

TAKING RESEARCH TO THE NEXT LEVEL
